

Van Buren Wireless, Inc.

CPNI STATEMENT

Van Buren Wireless, Inc. (VBW) has an established a policy to deal with the handling of proprietary and confidential information. New employees are trained in the confidentiality practices of the company concerning CPNI information. A periodic review of the CPNI procedures is held to ensure awareness of and compliance with CPNI regulations. All employees are instructed to seek counsel from management if there is any question regarding the applicability of CPNI regulations in a given situation. VBW also has express disciplinary policies and procedures in place to address any instances where employees do not abide by company policy.

VBW's customer record system contains fields in the customer records whereby customer accounts have CPNI status clearly identified.

It is VBW's policy to not provide CPNI information to third parties. At this point in time, VBW's marketing and sales campaigns do not make use of CPNI information. Even though VBW's sales and marketing campaigns do not use CPNI information, authorization by management is required prior to any campaign launch.